Thursday, June 8th
6.00 PM - 8.00 PM

Graduate students and other researchers from all disciplines are welcome.

This workshop is designed to help non-native speakers of English improve their abstract writing skills

Abstracts in the research world have become an increasingly important part of a research article, conference paper/presentation, doctoral dissertation, and master's thesis. The quality of an abstract may determine whether or not the reader chooses to read the paper further.
In this workshop, we will discuss some fundamental moves necessary for drafting a good quality abstract. We will also address EFL grammar issues, such as tense choice. Finally, we will practice how to create an effective title for a research paper.
